People in Swansea are being invited to brush up on their knowledge of city's newest private Dental Spa Surgery as it opens its doors for its official launch day.

Kee Dental Care has opened a state of the art practice on Glanmor Road in Sketty, and is offering people the chance to take a look around, find out about treatments such as Zoom! Whitening, cosmetic dentistry, dental implants and have a free consultation.

Owner and Principal dentist Darren Owakee is inviting people along to the Surgery on Friday, April 23, to take a look around the modern practice.

And to help celebrate the opening, Mr Owakee is also pledging to donate £500 to his team's nominated charity Cancer Research Wales, with an additional donation made for each new patient that joins the practice up until the end of August.

Kee Dental Care is situated at 117 Glanmor Road in Sketty, and will be open on Friday, April 23 from 1pm-4pm for free dental health consultations, followed by a drinks reception between 4pm-7pm.
